DEAR OIL AND GAS MARKETER

As we embark on a new decade, we look at opportunities on the horizon. While some pipeline projects are nearing completion, others are undergoing maintenance or benefiting from new technological development. With more attention than ever on safety, productivity, security and regulatory challenges, demand for the best services and technology is greater than at any time in the past.

This industry and the people who work in it are known for adaptability, resilience, and perseverance. For more than 160 years, Pipeline & Gas Journal has been serving this audience by providing coverage of technology, projects, and trends for decision makers in the global midstream oil & gas industry. In the past, Pipeline & Gas Journal has been able to provide our marketing and advertising clients access to these qualified readers through print promotion, digital offerings, and live events. Looking ahead, we will be improving all those opportunities to deliver higher value, more targeting capabilities to specific decision makers, and most importantly, delivering superior ROI.

In this media planner, you will notice a few changes when making your marketing plans for the next twelve months. Most obvious are the increased opportunities to reach the market. You will find branding and lead generation tools that, when used together, allow your messaging to reach key decision-makers in the midstream oil & gas industry and allow you to show ROI through qualified lead reports and analysis. Whether you are looking to market your company through the magazine, website, e-newsletters, events or lead generation tools, no other media company reaches the industry more effectively than Pipeline & Gas Journal!

Finally, it has never been easier to target your clients, our audience, than right now. Whether you are targeting a geographic region, company type, job title, or a group of decision makers with interest in one area of expertise, Pipeline & Gas Journal has the advertising packages for you. Contact one of our highly qualified sales representatives to walk you through the process for 2020, and make sure every advertising dollar counts!

Thank you for considering Pipeline & Gas Journal for your marketing plans, we look forward to working with you!
If you want to reach targeted decision makers in the midstream sector, Pipeline & Gas Journal is your partner of choice. Pipeline & Gas Journal is a proud partner of the Energy Web Atlas (EWA), the most complete dataset covering the international energy industry. EWA is the only web-based platform to incorporate global Midstream and Downstream project information sourced and maintained through Gulf Energy Information’s industry-leading Editorial teams and brands.

With data on more than 1.2 million miles of natural gas and liquids pipelines around the globe, EWA allows users to review the locations and routes of pipelines and pipeline projects, while quickly and easily identifying operators and shareholders for each pipeline.

In addition to identifying key project contacts, EWA also contains detailed pipeline specifications, such as fuel type, capacity, diameter and length, and users can set custom alerts for new project announcements within self-defined areas of interest.

Meanwhile, EWA’s Downstream project data layer allows users to tie the pipeline data to projects in the LNG, Refining, Petrochemical, and Gas Processing sectors for a comprehensive view of the market.

Data layers include:
- Oil & Gas Pipelines
- Gas Plants
- LNG Import/Export
- Petrochemical Facilities
- Refineries

TARGETED LEADS AT YOUR FINGERTIPS
Pipeline & Gas Journal’s direct-request circulation makes it the ideal partner for your lead generation program.

WEBCASTS
A Pipeline & Gas Journal webcast provides you with a powerful platform to take a thought leadership position on an important topic or to showcase your products and services to qualified oil and gas professionals across the globe.

Pipeline & Gas Journal offers both exclusive and multi-sponsored webcasts, and no matter which option you choose, all webcast planning, marketing and logistics will be managed by a dedicated Pipeline & Gas Journal webcast manager. Sponsors receive contact information for all registrants.

Exclusive: Pipeline & Gas Journal’s exclusive webcasts give the sponsor complete control over the topic, speakers, presentation and timing of each event. Each webcast is moderated by a Pipeline & Gas Journal editor, and the client can specify custom registration questions for pre-event lead qualification.

Multi-sponsored: Multi-sponsored webcasts are a cost-effective way for companies to collaborate in a joint webcast tackling a defined industry challenge. Each event will include expert contributions from a controlled group of speakers and be open to multiple sponsors.

Pre-selected topics are shown on the editorial calendar, but other topics are available upon request.

WHITE PAPERS
A Pipeline & Gas Journal White Paper is an effective way to gain exposure for your company’s best technical information. All white papers are hosted behind a dedicated registration page and hosted on PGJonline.com.

SPONSORED CONTENT
Pipeline & Gas Journal’s native advertising platform allows marketers to position their offering alongside the industry’s most respected editorial. The “Equipment Spotlight” native advertising slot provides sponsors with an opportunity to showcase their product on the Pipeline & Gas Journal homepage!
PRODUCT SHOWCASE
The Product Showcase is a marketplace to promote innovative techniques, systems and equipment. Each listing—no more than ten per page—consists of a description, an accompanying image highlighting the products or service, and company contact information. The Product Showcase is published in February, June and October.

Burns & McDonnell
New innovations and expansions in the gas pipeline industry have created an increased need for system improvements and expansions. Burns & McDonnell is staying ahead of the curve, offering up new and innovative methods of delivery for these projects, including EPC and program management.

Sponsored supplements are an innovative way to leverage Pipeline & Gas Journal’s global circulation. Supplements can be individually tailored, and they can be incorporated into any issue.

Once completed, sponsored supplements can either be bound into the magazine or poly-bagged along with the magazine. Supplements are available as bespoke packages—where the sponsor provides the raw content—or as completed packages, where the sponsor provides the completed supplement for publication.

In 2019, our cartographic team introduced the 'Digital Map' to complement Gulf Energy Information’s renowned Energy Wall Maps. This new format allows the user to view real-time data on any device and can be adapted for branding purposes.

Regions are being finalized for Pipeline & Gas Journal’s 2020 digital maps. Stay tuned for more information from your account manager. If you would like to discuss an exclusive opportunity, please contact Andy McDowell, Publisher, Pipeline & Gas Journal. These maps can be embedded on your corporate site, and exclusivity on the content is guaranteed for 12 months.

Leading source of industry related products, projects, and informative reporting.

I consider it very important to my job Excellent Magazine.

Excellent source of technical knowledge and products.

Every single one used in my engineering delivery documents.

Great in keeping me up to date on industry activities.

An excellent source for information.

It is one of main sources of industrial data mining and newly developed applications.
